

Two Roads: Master or Disaster

Apprentice

If a person is going to craft a life through wisdom, then they will need to find a master craftsman. It is this apprenticeship that helps a person become wise. Whenever it is crucial that a person becomes wise, they always discover someone who can show them how to live wisely. Every excellent life passes through wisdom...and knowledge becomes wisdom through relationship.

Discussion Questions

1. Is there a person in your life who made a significant difference to help you become the person you are today? Who is that person and how did they help you?
 2. Who are the heroes that you look to in your life? Who were their mentors? Please describe.
 3. If you have ever had a mentor/apprentice relationship, please describe it. If you never have, are there any authors or teachers or leaders to whom you look for wisdom? Discuss.
 4. Have you ever been able to see Jesus as your mentor? Have there been any decisions that you have made that grew out of the fact that you are in relationship with Him? Please describe.
 5. How could you approach Jesus and the Holy Spirit as your mentor this week? How could you enter into a school of apprenticeship with God? Please share your ideas.
-

God in Real Life

1. This week, be attentive to Jesus as your Mentor. See yourself as His apprentice in all of your decisions.
-

To the Heart

“I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go; I will counsel you with my eye upon you.” ~Psalm 32:8