

Underestimated

Silence is Not Absence

Do not underestimate what God is doing when it seems like God is doing nothing.

Discussion Questions

1. What is one story, movie, or tv show where the ending “made” it great? (On the other hand, what is one story, movie, or tv show that you loved that was ruined by the ending?)
  2. Do you ever find yourself being impatient about the process of God's forming you into a saint? What is it that makes you feel impatient about it?
  3. What do you know about God's Heart? What specific character traits of God help you to be certain that you can trust Him, especially in difficult seasons?
  4. In seasons of darkness, have you underestimated who God is and what He could be doing in it? What was it that helped you to fight off that discouragement and that doubt in prayer? Please be specific.
  5. Can you think of a difficult situation or season from your past where you doubted God's presence in it, but now, looking back, you can see how He was faithful through it all along? How did it change your relationship with Him?

God in Real Life

Reach out to someone who is currently walking in darkness. Share Psalm 27 with them, walking with them towards the Light.

To the Heart

"For the yoke that burdened them, the pole on their shoulder, and the rod of their taskmaster you have smashed, as on the day of Midian." Isaiah 9:3
